FREE DEMCCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

At a meeting of the Free Democratic State Central Committee, held in Philadelphia, August 1st, the following resolution was adopted;

"That a Free Democratic Mass Convention be held at Harrisburg on the 30th day of August Instant, to consider the policy and duty of the Free Democratic party in the present crisis, unless there should be a People's Mass Convention of those opposed to the aggressions of Slavory, as proposed at meetings lately held in Tioga county and elsewhere, called about that time, in which event the Free Democracy will assemble at the time and place selected for such Convention."

The important issues now depending, and the present position of parties in this State; the necessity for vigorous and united action on the part of those who desire to interpose effectually to resist the alarming enero schments of the Slave Power-these are circumstances which call loudly upon every friend of Facedom to rally to this gathering, and thus strengthen the hands of the independent men of all parties who may meet in such General Convention, should one be held, or otherwise, by their numbers and real, to give confidence in any course of action which the Free Democratic party may decide upon.

Bastman's Infallible Sick Headache Remedy Bastman's infallible Sick Headache Remedy.

THIS preparation, by E. P. EASTMAN, M. D., of Lynn, Mass., has been used in private practice for the last four years, with the greatest success. A radical cure has been effected in every instance where the directions have been strictly followed and persevered in. It is now given to the public with the full confidence that it will do all that is claimed for it, and prove itself, upon fair trial, an infallible Sick Headache Remedy.

It is safe and pleasant to the taste, it brings immediate relief, and all who test its curative virtues rejoice in the removal of pain, and marvel at its power in allevinting so general, and often so fatal, a scourge.

The following is from D. C. Baker, Esq., Mayor of Lynn, and President of the Howard Banking Company, Boston:

Dr. E. P. Eastman.

Dr. E. P. Eastman.

Dear Sir: A member of my family—a daughter, ten years of age—was afflicted with the sick headache, and we tried various remedies without success. When, however, you administered to her your "Headache Powders," we found them to be very beneficial, and, in fact, restored her to health.

I should, without hesitation, recommend them to those afflicted; and I beg to assure you, that I fully appreciate their value.

Respectfully yours,

D. C. Baker.

LYNN, August 6, 1853. MY DEAR SIR: I avail myself of this opportunity My Dran Sin: I avail myself of this opportunity to express to you my high appreciation of the efficiency and value of your Sick Headache Remedy. I have been afflicted, since my childhood, with very severe turns of sick headache, and have tried various remedies which have been prescribed, but found no considerable relief until I tried your remedy, which, I am happy to say, has ulmost entirely cored me. Several of my neighbors and friends have tried your medicine, and in every instance it has entirely relieved or greatly mollified the disease.

Faithfully yours.

To those persons who may visit washington, and are in want of a boot that cannot be excelled, either in quality or workmanship, we would call their attention to the card of Henry Janney, to be found under the head of "Washington." A handsome and neatly-made boot is not at all times a source of pleasure to the wearer, but often one of extreme torture; this is enused by the bungling manner in which the boot is fitted to the foot. Mr. Janney has devoted much of his time in studying the construction of the human foot, in order to ascertain how a boot should be cut and fitted, that will be perfectly easy to all parts of the foot. In this he has succeeded, so that it matters not what may be the shape of, or the number of corns on the foot, his boot is perfectly easy. Thus he has o mbined beauty with comfort.

A success unprecedented in Theological Publications!

A N impression has already been produced by this A masterly treatise, the most profound, wide reaching, and permanent.

It is perfectly manifest to all competent observers, that we are upon the eve of a theological discussion, the most comprehensive, radical, and portentous, the world has over seen. To this discussion this book leads the way, with a momentum irresistible. There is not a question in Theology which is not dustined to come up for a new and thorough settlement in the light of this final development.

All these who have Theological doubts and difficulties should examine the solution this work affords. Those who have no doubts, but who wish to study the history of opinions in the past, and to keep pace with the developments of opinion in the future, will gribvously err if they neglect to make themselves familiar with this book. It contains the seeds of the thinkings and dobattings of the next hundred years. The reception of this work by the The logical press of the country, has been significant. Equally declining to accept his conclusion, they do it on opposite and contradictory grounds. One half of the Theological press endorses the major premise of the argument, and denies the major. And as they are probably both right in their positive element, and wrong in their negative, the work has received a Virtual Endorsement of the most powerful kind.

As regards the ability of the work, and its claims on the attention of all, the following extracts may suffice:

From the Princeton Repertory—Old School Orthodox.

It is characterized by great ability, by an earnest spirit, by frankness, candor, and courtesy. It has a special interest for us. WE HAIL IT AS AN ALLY. The author shuts his readers up to the choice between Orthodoxy and the doctrine of Pre-Existence.

We have the novel spectacle of a man clinging with a masterly grasp to all the fundamentals of Orthodoxy, * * * yet dealing it a blow beneath which it reels.

It would be difficult to find within the limits of a hundred pages any treatise or essay that can compare in importance with this analysis (B. iv) of Orthodox doctrines. Dr. Beecher has struck upon the right principle in his theory of typical interpretation, in the fifth of Romans.

ORIGINAL WESTERN LITERATURE.

"The West has no literature," was remarked by prominent speaker in a public assembly, not a long time since. The West has a literature—a literature of her own—fresh, bold, vigorous, and beautiful—not refined into stupidity, not degenerated into obscenity—but looming up like her own mountaies, fertile as her rich soil, attractive as her blooming prairies. It has been the object of the Genius to gather in the choicest productions of this literature, and to send them forth again, to encourage, to please, and to instruct. It is not surprising that the public have regarded this object with extraordinary favor—a favor which is evidenced by the remarkable success of the Genius of the West. It has elicited the attention and admiration of cultivated minds in all parts of the

We abound in magasines and newspapers, suited to the wants and tastes of all classes, yet the thirst for mental recreation and intelligence, which is one of the characteristics of our people, encourages us in the bolief that another well-conducted publication will be amply sustained.

Competition, which has been called "the life of trade," is now such in the periodical line, that, by the ordinary mode, it is a hazardous undertaking to the publisher to attempt, even with a large capital, to establish a magazine or paper. Not unfrequently, thousands of dollars are expended before it is made to yield a profit; and it has become a settled principle, that subscribers must be paid for, in one way or another. Periodicals are remunerative only when they have a large circulation, and Prantiums are commonly given to increase subscription lists.

We design to farnish a handsomely-printed, hightoned, witty, entertaining, and instructive Quarto, (a suitable form for binding,) which in one year will comprise a large amount of medul information, and as a refex of the times and a record of current events will be found worthy of preservation. Intending it to be, most emphatically, a paper for the people, we shall advocate their rights, their interests, their welfare; our motto being "the greatest good to the largest number." The yearly subscription has been fixed at one dollar, or five copies for four dollars, twenty-five copies for twenty dollars—all to one address.
